

Year Seven Social

We have recently welcomed a whole new cohort to the academy. These are some of the year 7 talking points after their first half term at Six Villages. Year 7 reporter Luke has filled us in on how the new year 7s are settling into life at secondary school.

'I enjoy the new school (all the new subjects and new things.) I liked the hunts trying to find all the classrooms and all the new teachers I have met. The best thing about the new school is that more independence is given to the students. As many more subjects are on the timetable it means you have more fun and variation. In years to come, all the options are in the students' hands, giving them some freedom. Also, lockers are given to you when you start which means you can lock things away. I have really enjoyed the start of my long journey at Ormiston Six Villages Academy.'

One student Bryony said: 'I settled in school quite well because people were showing me where to go for classes'

Drew said: 'I enjoyed settling down at Six Villages because it was fun locating all the rooms in the school.'
